GLOBAL IDEAS

INTRODUCTION

Global Ideas Forum is without doubt one of the most informative, innovative, engaging and fun ways to contribute to the important global health issues of our time

— Prof Rob Moodie AM

Now in its sixth year, the Global Ideas Forum theme for 2017 is Global health in a volatile world: people, politics & planet.

Our focus is to challenge participants to innovate and disrupt an increasingly volatile global health landscape.

To achieve better health for all, we require all types of skills.

Whether you have a background in journalism or bioethics, emergency relief or economics, the Forum will expose all of the factors and players in health, and empower our participants to connect ideas in innovative ways.

This is your opportunity to gain the tools to make a difference.

We inspire the next generation of global health innovators to think about solutions through human-centred design, take their next step in global and planetary health, and become agents of change.

Join us on the journey to connect global health ideas to action

EVENT SUPPORTERS

FIND YOUR NICHE: THE PERSONAS

POLICY POH

Do you look towards politics and legislation governed by large organisations like the United Nations and the World Health Organisation as major levers for change?

Do you believe community change happens through a systems level change?

Do theories and evidence guide your thinking and professional relationships with key leaders facilitate your mission?

CARLOS THE CAMPAIGNER

Are you driven by a desire to influence and sway people's opinions on a large scale?

Do you want to bring about change through mass movement from outside modern bureaucracies?

Are you looking for networking opportunities and a chance to share your story?

ENTERPRISING ERIN

Do you want to be part of a global social movement that bridges private wealth and social entrepreneurship in order to create a sustainable future?

Do you want to leverage the crucial role that philanthropists and corporate bodies have in mobilising large groups of people towards common goals?

GRASSROOTS GREG

Are you constantly challenging yourself with new experiences in diverse settings?

Do you believe that the strongest push for sustainable development requires both global and local community involvement?

Do you get your hands dirty, rather than chewing the fat and are impressed by the work of on-the-ground NGOs?

INSHA THE INVENTOR

Do you have the tools to make a lasting footprint, but don't know which avenues are available and will have the best social impact?

Do you want to learn more about sustainable living and take an interest in novel approaches to improving health outcomes?

Do you want to collaborate with others to create innovative solutions to global health challenges?

GLOBAL IDEAS FORUM 2017

GLOBAL HEALTH IN A VOLATILE WORLD: PEOPLE, POLITICS AND PLANET

DAY 1 – FRIDAY 8TH SEPTEMBER

| TIME | SESSION |
|------|---|
| 1730 | Registration & welcome food and drinks Arts West Atrium |
| 1830 | FOOD SECURITY AND GLOBAL HEALTH KEYNOTE Feeding more people with less Tim Reeves – Chair, Agriculture Forum of the Australian Academy of Technological Sciences and Engineering Every day, nearly one billion humans go to bed hungry. Another billion are undernourished. And meanwhile, over 1.5 billion are malnourished through over-consumption of energy-dense foods, suffering from obesity and related diseases. Producing the extra food required for our growing population requires nearly a doubling of current food production. And this will have to come from less land, with less water, less reliance on energy-rich inputs, and from systems threatened by climate change. How might we feed more, and feed better, with less? Forum Theatre – Arts West Building |
| 1910 | FOOD SECURITY AND GLOBAL HEALTH PANEL How might we secure the supply of nutritious food to 9 billion people by 2050? Tim Reeves – Chair, Agriculture Forum of the Australian Academy of Technological Sciences and Engineering Sophie Lamond – Director, Fair Food Challenge Alexandra Iljadica – Co-founder and CEO, Youth Food Movement Australia Chair: Lloyd Nash – Co-founder & Chair, Global Ideas Forum Theatre – Arts West Building |

| 0900 | SUSTAINABILITY AND GLOBAL HEALTH KEYNOTE Reinventing production and consumption through the circular economy. Damien Giurco – Director, Institute for Sustainable Futures, University of Technology Sydney As carbon dioxide rises and finite resources are exhausted, we are using more resources than can be replaced. The global civilization today finds itself in what the Prince of Wales declared an “act of suicide on a grand scale”. We need to move towards more sustainable production and consumption practices if we want to prevent potential environmental and societal collapse. Could the circular economy provide a way forward? Forum Theatre – Arts West Building |
| 0930 | SUSTAINABILITY AND GLOBAL HEALTH PANEL How might the circular economy impact global health outcomes? Damien Giurco – Director, Institute for Sustainable Futures, University of Technology Sydney Jaine Morris – Co-founder, The Circular Experiment Ashleigh Morris – Co-founder, The Circular Experiment Luke Barbagallo – Program Officer, Pollinate Energy Chair: Louka Parry – Director of Programs at Education Changemakers Forum Theatre – Arts West Building |
